

Media Support Services – Ukraine Crisis

The need for accurate reporting from Ukraine has never been higher.

The safety, security and wellbeing of the brave journalists and media teams, staff and freelancers – local and international – is essential.

Here are just some of the ways in which we can support you.

Hostile Environment Awareness Training (HEAT)

Our UK HEAT and HEAT refresher courses are running continuously at our training centre of excellence in Herefordshire, UK. This is to ensure access to training when you need it.

For more information and to book, click here.

Upcoming courses will include a Ukraine-specific briefing and Q&A opportunity with AKE's Europe & Eurasia desk.

Operational support on the ground

AKE has enabled and kept media crews and freelancers safe and secure in every conflict zone since 2001.

From your planning to your on-the-ground safety, we are here to support you with:

- Pre-deployment risk assessment
- In country security, medical & logistical support
- Tracking of your personnel
- 24/7 crisis response line
- Evacuation and repatriation

You can utilise our services via retained, project based or ad-hoc arrangements. Find out more.

HEAT courses in Poland

We are finalising the dates and logistics for our upcoming HEAT courses in Poland.

We are working to make it easier for Ukrainian and local journalists and for media crews en-route to Ukraine to access this valuable training.

Register your interest here and as soon as details are finalised we will share them with you.
