

The humanitarian impact of the Russian invasion of Ukraine has been unprecedented. The refugee crisis alone has been ranked by the UN as second only to that witnessed during WW2.

The safety, security and wellbeing of the NGO community – local and international – is essential to enable its vital work in Ukraine and in support of refugees in neighbouring states.

Here are just some of the ways in which we can support you.

Hostile Environment Awareness Training (HEAT)

Our UK HEAT and HEAT refresher courses are running continuously at our training centre of excellence in Herefordshire, UK. This is to ensure access to training when you need it.

For more information and to book, click here.

Upcoming courses will include a Ukraine-specific briefing and Q&A opportunity with AKE's Europe & Eurasia desk.

Operational support on the ground

AKE has enabled and kept our NGO clients safe and secure in every conflict and reconstruction zone since 2001.

From your planning to your on-the-ground safety, we are here to support you with:

- Pre-deployment risk assessment
- In country security, medical & logistical support
- Tracking of your personnel
- 24/7 crisis response line
- Evacuation and repatriation

You can utilise our services via retained, project based or ad-hoc arrangements. Find out more.

HEAT courses in Poland

We are finalising the dates and logistics for our upcoming HEAT courses in Poland.

We are working to make it easier for the local and regional NGO community – and for those organisations en-route to Ukraine – to access this valuable training.

Register your interest here and as soon as details are finalised we will share them with you.
